CSOTTE promotes two tracks for presentation consideration- a Standard Professional track and the Emerging Scholars/Emerging Professionals track. Descriptions and guidelines for each track are detailed below.

Standard Professional Track

This track is for practitioners and practicing professionals in teacher preparation to conduct a presentation with either a practical or research focus. Presentations include Single Topic, Multiple Topic, and Round Table formats.

Single Topic

A single topic presentation is a presentation given to an audience, usually about research or a practice that the speaker has conducted/experienced. The goal of the single topic presentation is to share new information with others in the field and to receive feedback on the work. The presentation is provided by an individual or a group in the 45-minute time allotment. There will be a screen provided, so presenters must bring their own laptop and projectors.

Multi-Topic

The multi-topic presentation is designed for 2 presentations to be given within a 45-minute timeframe. Each presenter will be allotted approximately 20 minutes to share new information with others in the field and to receive feedback on the work. The presentation may be provided by an individual or a group. There will be a screen provided, so presenters must bring their own laptop and projector.

Round Table

The Round Table Presentation is an informal discussion on a specific topic. Participants in the Round Table presentation are given the opportunity to participate in the discussion. Presenters may provide handouts, but PowerPoint type presentations are not recommended.
